

Gridmen crush Ithaca 35-20 as offense rolls; LIU, Hartwick stop booters' winning streak at 5

DeTore gets 3 TD's by Mike Cerulo

Purple Knight quarterback Roy Ferreira gave a lesson to All-America QB Doug Campbell on how to run a ball-control offense, as the Knights steamrolled to a 35-20 win over Ithaca in front of a delighted Homecoming crowd.

The victory, UB's fifth in a row, was keyed by the awesome Purple and White running game. Piling up a phenomenal 455 yards on the ground, the Knights virtually moved up and down the gridiron at will. The Ithaca defense simply watched helplessly, as the UB front line plowed over the Bombers all evening.

Ferreira's poise and execution were nearly flawless. The Knight signal-caller passed for 100 yards, while bewildering the Ithaca defense with his 149 yard rushing performance. Aiding the Purple Knight onslaught was running back Vin DeTore, who romped and scampered for a game-high 167 yards and three big TD's. Also having an exceptional night was Jim Tully, who trampled over the stunned Bomber line for 126 yards.

The Purple Knights, picking up from last week's rushing success, established an unstoppable running game early. Frustrating the Ithaca squad all evening, UB took control of the game late in the first quarter.

After several ball changes, the Knights drew first blood. Sparked by an amazing 35 yard reception by Chuck Cornell, DeTore ramblined in the end zone from the two, finishing a 60 yard drive in four plays, and giving the Purple and White a 7-0 lead.

Putting their explosive running machine in gear the Knights plowed 72 yards in 16 plays, with Tully going over right tackle for a 14-0 lead early in the second quarter.

Sparked by the one-man performance of Campbell, Ithaca marched 88 yards in nine plays to paydirt on a roll-out pass to Mike Welsh, to keep the game close at halftime.

The Knights lost composure early in the second half. Aided by a defensive clipping call Campbell, who finished with 163 yards rushing, raced 51 yards to close the gap to 14-13.

The tempo of the game was beginning to swing to the Bombers when the Purple Knight ground game came alive again. Deep in their own territory the offense did not get flustered, methodically moving 92 yards to score, with Dave Caldiero giving UB a 21-13 lead.

The fourth quarter was all DeTore. His four yard score capped a 91 yard drive, and on the next set of downs, his 35 yard romp gave the Knights an unreachable 35-13 lead. A last play TB by Ithaca could not, however, blemish the tremendous Purple and Knight ground attack.

FULLBACK DAVE CALDIERO slams over for the touchdown that put the game out of reach for Ithaca in the 35-20 Homecoming victory.

Academic calendar revision amended by senate to include spring semester

by Ken Best

The University Senate last Wednesday approved revision of the academic calendar after it amended the original proposal to include the spring semester.

The revised proposal now reads: "That the University's calendar be revised so that the fall semester including final examinations ends prior to the Christmas recess. The spring semester should be planned to have registration early in February with it ending finals in the middle of May and that the Curriculum Committee be asked to make guidelines for special educational activities during January."

This amended version of the proposal was made by Stuart Mayer, associate professor of chemistry, after a debate over the need for any form of calendar revision.

Leo J. Mann, dean of the College of Education, argued that a disadvantage of ending the fall semester before Christmas would result in a shortening of student-teaching hours.

He also mentioned that the original proposal did not include other semesters and called for a "total" calendar revision.

It was also noted by Charles R. Dolan, associate professor of education, that the hours of the University's Graduate School would possibly be cut and that this should be considered.

The question of how the University's accreditation would be affected, if at all, was raised and Senate Secretary William E. Walker, assured the Senate that the University would take that factor into consideration when revising the calendar.

In other activities, the work of the Law School Committee was praised by many members of the Senate after the committee report was presented by Ken Gross, president of the senior class. The committee will continue to investigate and report on the possibilities of establishing a law school here at the University.

There was, however, a comment by Milton Millhauser, professor of English, that he feared the habit of the University of launching a program and letting it fade. "A law school," he said, "takes a full commitment."

The president's report was delivered by Richard Ehmer, professor of psychology, who read a letter from University President Thurston E. Manning who was unable to attend.

Manning said that the Board of Trustees approved the proposed changes in the Senate's constitution and that he supported a new educational calendar.

The executive committee report was presented by Secretary Walker. He said that the committee asked that the student publications policy be reviewed by the committee on student life and that the names of the students submitted by Student Council to serve on the Senate's committees be accepted.

Glaser resigns as chairman of informal ed committee

Dr. Bruce Glaser of the art department has submitted his resignation as chairman of the Informal Education Committee, it was learned last week.

In his letter of resignation, Dr. Glaser stated that "in view of the declaration made at the Senate meeting of October 6, by members of that (the Informal Education Committee) committee I want to offer my resignation as chairman, effective immediately."

The declaration was a petition to the University Senate from the Faculty-Student Committee on Informal Education. In it, the committee urged the Senate to consider the proposal that "anyone selected for the chairmanship (of the Informal Education Committee) must have been an active member of the committee for at least a year."

Dr. Glaser was not on the committee last year, therefore, could not have been an active member.

As Secretary of the Senate, Dean Walker made the recommendation to the Executive Committee for the chairmanship of the Informal Education Committee. He first consulted with the chairmen of the departments of speech and theatre arts and art, and then recommended Dr. Glaser for the chairmanship. The nomination was confirmed by the Senate.

Whether or not Dr. Glaser's resignation has been accepted is not known. Dr. Glaser said that he would like to see the committee select its own chairman and that he would like to serve on the committee, even if not as chairman.

In order for the committee to select its own chairman, an amendment to the senate constitution would have to be made. However, that motion was defeated in the Senate.

Make-up exam schedule set

The make-up examination schedule for the Fall 1971 semester has been released by the Office of Student Personnel. All exams are in Fones 100 and begin at 9:30 a.m. The dates are as follows:

October 30; November 6, 13, 20; December 4, 11, 18; January 8, 15, 22, 29.

Record slips to 6-4

by Tomm Valuckas

The Purple Knight goalgetters, posting three shutouts during their five game win streak, abruptly had the tables turn on them as they were held scoreless against two powerful Eastern squads, Long Island University and Hartwick College.

UB's booters saw their record slip to 6-4 as they lost to the Blackbirds from Brooklyn last Wednesday, 2-0, and then came home Saturday only to drop a 1-0 heartbreaker to Hartwick College.

Leonard Taylor, Long Island's junior forward, smacked home two goals, one of them unassisted, to give the Blackbirds a convincing triumph over a sluggish Knights squad. Taylor beat goalkeeper Pepin in a one-on-one situation late in the second quarter as Pepin came out of the nets to try to block the shot, but to no avail. Taylor added his second goal of the game midway in the third as he took a cross pass in front of the goal from forward John Stavros, and then sent the ball into the nets.

Bridgeport, which had scored five goals in its previous game, never got its offense going, and was outshot by Long Island 30-7. That marked the first time this year that the Knights lost out in shots-on-goal. The Blackbirds raised their record to 7-1, with their only loss coming against Hartwick.

Saturday, the Knights and Hartwick battled in a defensive duel before a large turnout at Seaside Park, with the only goal coming in the third period after a rare, defensive mistake by the Knight backs.

The game was a titanic defensive struggle in the first half as Hartwick, fifth ranked in the country, and UB could mount few serious drives deep into enemy territory. When one team did manage to penetrate the penalty box, there was always a defensive man in the way to block or deflect a shot. This helps account for the few saves made by the goalies, as Pepin had eight and Norm Wingert seven. UB took 15 shots on goal while Hartwick had 14, indicating that the offenses played pretty evenly.

Hartwick put the pressure on in the third period as they taxed the Knights defense with their best drives of the game, and thus carried the early second half action. Then with 10:45 gone, after the Knights repulsed two serious threats in succession by Hartwick, they failed to clear the ball on a third, even though there were few defenders in the area.

At 11:01, Ed Austin snuck through, took the stray ball, and slammed it past a diving Pepin from in close. It was the only goal of the game, and Hartwick made it stand up.

The Knights had some good opportunities late in the fourth quarter, but the timing in the shots and the passes just wasn't there. The Purple Knights had to settle for "just missed" shots, as they were blanked for the second game in a row.

Aegis opens for problems, solutions

Monday, October 25, Aegis will be open for business. Aegis, a student-run organization, will provide telephone and drop-in service for the University community, and for residents of the area.

Originally, Aegis was proposed as a drug counseling service, but it has grown to the point where it is now commonly referred to as a problem center. Chris Stoklosa, chief co-ordinator of the service, stated that Aegis will be able to handle legal, medical, drug and abortion referrals and will try to deal with any problem that comes up.

At present, Aegis has sixteen volunteers manning its office at 328 Park Ave. Thirty more volunteers are being trained and are expected to be able to handle the responsibilities of dealing with the public by the middle of November.

Aegis did run into some problem in its plans for re-opening this year. With the increase in tuition at the University a number of the Aegis volunteers were not able to afford to continue their studies at the University. Also, graduate students who were working within the program finished their studies and left the University community. Of the original 20 volunteers only 10 remained. Presently, the problem is being overcome by the training of a sufficient number of volunteers.

Aegis has received funds from the University and from the Connecticut Council of Churches, which will allow the organization to function. The organization is waiting to hear from Student Council and the Parents' Association from which funds will hopefully be allotted, so that Aegis' work will be able to continue at the University.

Student Council seeks to acquire new security car

After securing one emergency vehicle for the University, Student Council now wants to acquire another car that the Security Department can use for patrol purposes.

Because of a recent Council meeting with officials, the University purchased a station wagon for use by Security personnel handling emergencies. Now Council hopes to negotiate for another car to make the night patrolmen on campus more mobile.

Council members are now attempting to have some local business' donate a car for use by the Security Department. At the Council meeting last Wednesday, buying the vehicle was discussed. Some students were in favor of this idea, while others echoed the sentiments of Arts and Sciences Senator Chris Dufresne. "I am opposed to us paying for it. Campus security is the University's job."

Council basically supported the idea and asked the committee to continue looking into the matter.

Two appointments were approved by Student Council. Margaret Felluca took the place of Janet Strauss as recording secretary due to Ms. Strauss's resignation. Lisa Tidesco asked Council to approve Cathy Serbino as her alternate from the College of Education, and Council consented.

The recently formed committee on community involvement reported the results of their meeting. Twelve ideas were presented to Council and the committee will try to put the ideas in practice. Projects include working with neighborhood children, having a conference with people in the community, helping with community projects, and sponsoring a monthly cleanup in different areas of the city.

While asking Student Council to support a series of low budget concerts, Kevin Shanley, said that there could be a concert Saturday night with "Fanny", an all-girl rock and roll group. As Council's concert consultant, Shanley has been booking groups since the Entertainment Coordinating Committee seems non-functional this year.

Tom Flynn, senator from the College of Business Administration and Sue Ifcher will set up an open house for Student Council in the near future. In this way, students will have an opportunity to meet their student leaders.

The Ontology Club received about $800 to sponsor speakers on campus. A $600 allocation for Alpine Outing Club was tabled.

New test program for tuberculosis

Students at the University will participate in a new "time" test program for tuberculosis screening starting Tuesday, November 2.

Mrs. Sylvia Lane, head nurse at the University Health Center, said that this method of screening, which avoids use of x-rays was recommended by the University's two attending physicians, Dr. Robert Nevins and Dr. Robert Gaffney.

The new method is a quick skin-contact test which is painless and takes only a minute or so to complete, she said. The test, which will be required by all future freshman, will be administered free of charge to students in the junior class on Nov. 2 and 3, from 1-4 p.m. in the Health Clinic.

There will be a blood bank today in the Social Room of the Student Center sponsored by Sprague Meter, the University, and Warnaco, from 9:45 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. The parental permission requirement for blood donors between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one was removed, under a bill passed on May 30, 1971.

Pucksters open season Sereika chosen captain

by Barbara Warzecha

The Purple Knight Pucksters have begun their 1971-1972 season with a "new" team, coaches included. The Knights lost their first bout to CCNY but are hopefully planning to live up to last season's championship playing. A closer look at the team, shows that they just might make it.

The Pucksters have two active coaches; Paul Tanguay, a Canadian defenseman for the Bridgeport Oilers; and Dan Arcobello, a graduate student at UB, and a high scorer in the Metropolitan Hockey League last season. The Pucksters also boast a behind-the-scenes, faculty advisor, in the person of an engineering professor, Dr. Motherway.

Captain for the 1971-1972 season was chosen recently, and Joe Sereika grabbed the well deserved title. Sereika was the second highest scorer on the team last season and placed in the top ten division standings for high scoring. Alternate captains are veterans Steve Lovely, John "Tex" Ventresca, and John "Pete" Spader.

The starting goalie is transfer Ben Harvey and backup goalie is Nelson Shapiro. Last season's outstanding goalie, Randy Olen, will be back in school second semester. The third line is made up of: center, Dave Madsen; right wing, Miro Mierzejewski; and left wing, Gil Burns. The extra defenseman is Greg Loosigan. Veteran, Don Siclari, is sitting out at least part of this season with a back injury. Carl Novak will be on the ice after football season, and Matty Peck, after soccer.

The hockey club received $3500 from the athletic department this year, but after paying the outstanding bills from last year, they are short about $1200 for the coming season. They intend to ask Student Council to allocate all or part of the funds. The schedule follows:

Mon. Nov. 1	Manhattan	at	Riverdale
Fri. Nov. 12	St. John's	at	Bridgeport
Mon. Nov. 15	Iona	at	Riverdale
Sat. Nov. 20	Nassau Com.	at	Canliague Pk

Fri. Dec. 3	Fairfield	at	Bridgeport
Fri. Dec. 12	Manhattan	at	Bridgeport
Fri. Dec. 17	Fordham	at	Bridgeport
Wed. Jan. 5	St. Francis	at	Coney Island
Fri. Jan. 7	CCNY	at	Bridgeport
Fri. Jan. 14	Iona	at	Bridgeport

Pucksters bow to CCNY

The Purple Knight pucksters opened their 1971-1972 season in typical fashion on Monday, the 18th, by losing 4-1 to CCNY at Riverdale, Long Island.

The entire game showed a lot of sloppy playing by the Knights, with little hope of scoring at all through the first two periods. Because of so many new team members, passing and timing were both off.

Action began in the second period when CCNY capitalized on Knights shorthandedness and scored at 7:05. Fastenberg was credited with the first tally. At 8:19, City scored again on a powerplay by Valentine. About a minute and a half after Valentine scored, shoving and pushing in front of the CCNY goal turned into a paired off brawl for ten skaters. Each skater got five minutes for fighting and the referee gave the goaltenders each ten minutes. The goal tenders were not involved in the scuffle, but their being at the scene of the fight involves an automatic misconduct penalty. The fight racked up a total of 102 penalty minutes in a 45 minute game. The third goal for CCNY came 13:24, by DeMayo.

The third period looked promising, with more Knight hustle. At 2:11, in a faceoff in City territory, Jeff Snell got the puck to Pete Spader. Spader blasted in the puck from his defensive position.

Dr. Marie L. Jaeger of Fairfield, director of the Weylister Secretarial School of the University of Bridgeport's Junior College, is one of six members from the field of business education appointed by the National Secretary's Association International (NSAI) to serve on its twenty-member board of the Institute for Certifying Secretaries.

Dr. Jaeger, a professor of secretarial studies with extensive experience in education and business, will serve her three year term on the committees of: examination construction, special research, and Certified Professional Secretaries (CPS) seminars.

Dr. Jaeger, who obtained a bachelor and master degree of sciences, and a doctorate at the University of Pennsylvania, is past president of the Administrative Management Society of Bridgeport.

Physical Education 380, activities for the atypical, is a course designed to give students practical experience in working with and teaching mentally retarded children.

These children are bussed from Kennedy Center Workshop in Bridgeport to the Harvey Hubbell Gym twice a week.

The first eight weeks of the course is devoted to practical teaching, while the last eight weeks are regular classroom instruction.

The first half of the program will conclude on Nov. 12. The class meets in the gym on Monday and Friday, from 1-2 p.m.

And all the king's together again.

The emotional wound cuts deep and heals slowly. The scars can last a lifetime.

Susie is hurt and confused, but mostly she's afraid. Afraid her parents will stop loving her the way they stopped loving each other. Afraid somehow she's to blame for the whole mess. Afraid of tomorrow.

As long as there are marriages there'll be divorces. We can't save them all. But with your help, we can save a handful.

There are people in trouble all over this town.

Poor people, sick people, old people, disturbed people need your help and need it fast.

Give the United Way. Please.

it won't get done.
